Notice of Privacy Practices

We are required by law to protect the privacy of health information that may reveal your identify and to provide you with a copy of this notice. This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and details your rights about your Protected Health Information (PHI). Please review it carefully and sign the back of this page.

This practice, in accordance with this Notice and without asking for your express consent or authorization may use and disclose your Protected Health Information (PHI) in the following ways:

General State of Privacy Practices

We will not use or disclose your PHI except for treatment, payment, or health care operations or as otherwise described in this notice.

Examples of Disclosure

Treatment: We may use your healthcare information for treatment purposes. Example: information obtained by our healthcare team will be recorded in your record and used to determine the course of treatment that will work best for you. Dr. Erickson will record the actions she took, her observations, and her assessment. In that way, she will know how you are responding to treatment.

We may also provide your other physicians or a subsequent healthcare provider with copies of various reports that should assist them in treating you, as well as to people who may be involved in your care, such as family members, clergy, significant others, or others we use to provide services that are part of your case.

Payment: We will use your healthcare information for payment purposes. For example: A bill may be sent to a third party payer/insurance company. The information accompanying the bill may include information that identifies you, as well as your diagnosis, procedures, and supplies used. If requested, we will provide copies of the applicable portions of your medical record to your insurance company or governmental programs, such as Medicare or Medicaid, in order to validate your claim. We may also use your PHI to appeal denial of coverage on your behalf.

Regular Health Operations: We may use information in your health record to assess the care and outcomes in your case and others like it. This information will then be used in an effort to continually improve the quality and effectiveness of the healthcare and the services we provide.

Other Possible Disclosures Permitted or Required by Law

Telephone or Email Contact/Appointment reminders: We may contact you to provide appointment reminders or information about treatments and test results or other health related benefits and services that may be of interest to you.

Personal Representative: The Practice may use and disclose your PHI to a person who, under applicable law, has the authority to represent you in making decisions related to your health care.

De-Identified Information: The Practice may use and disclose health information that may be related to your care but does not identify you and cannot be used to identify you.

Disaster Relief: We also may use or disclose your PHI to an authorized public or private entity to assist in disaster relief efforts. This will be done to coordinate information with those organizations in notifying a family member, other relative, close friend, significant other of your location and general condition.

Workers' Compensation: We may disclose health information to the extent authorized and to the extent necessary to comply with laws relating to workers' compensation or other similar programs established by law.

Public Health: As required by law, we may disclose your health information to public health or legal authorities charged with preventing or controlling diseases, injury, or disability.

Correctional Institution: Should you be an inmate of a correctional institution, we may disclose to the institute or agents thereof health information necessary for your health and the health and safety of other individuals.

Funeral Director or Coroner: We may disclose health information to funeral directors or coroners consistent with applicable law to carry out their duties.

Organ Procurement: Consistent with applicable law, we may disclose health information to organ procurement organizations or other entities engaged with procurement, banking, or transplantation of organs for the purpose of tissue donation and transplant.

Law Enforcement: We may disclose health information for law enforcement purposes as required by law or in response to a valid subpoena. Federal law makes provision for your health information to be released to an appropriate health oversight agency, public health authority or attorney, provided that a work force member of business associate believes in good faith that we have engaged in unlawful conduct or have otherwise violated professional or clinical standards and potentially endangering one or more patients, workers, or the public.

Special Government Functions: If you are a member of the Armed Forces, we may release your PHI as required by military command authorities.

Your Rights

You have certain rights with respect to your Protected Health Information.

You have the right to Revoke Authorization: You have the right to revoke any authorization or consent you have given to the Practice, at any time. To request revocation, you must submit a written request to the Practice's Privacy Officer. Also you have the right to:

1. Request Restrictions: You have the right to request, in writing, that we agree to restrictions on the uses and disclosures of your PHI for treatment, payment and health care operations. However, we are not required to agree to your requested restrictions.
2. Confidential Communication: You may request, in writing, that we send confidential communication of your protected health information to alternate locations and by alternate means, and we must abide by your request if reasonable.
3. Inspect your PHI: You have the right to request, in writing, that we allow you to inspect and copy your protected health information.
4. Amend: You have the right to request, in writing, an amendment to your health information. However, we are not required to make the amendment if we do not believe the amendment is justified.
5. An accounting of Disclosures: You have the right to receive an accounting of any disclosures of your protected health information that are not made either for treatment, payment, or health care operations purposes or pursuant to your authorization.
6. Paper copy: You have the right to request a paper copy of this notice.
7. File a Complaint: You have the right to complain to the Practice or to the United States Secretary of Health if you believe your rights have been violated. See below for the address to write to.

Our Duties

With respect to your Protected Health Information that is created or maintained here, we are required to:

- Maintain the privacy of your health information
- Provide you with a notice as to our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to the information we collect and maintain about you and abide by the terms of this notice.

We reserve the right to change our practices and make the new provisions effective for all health information we maintain. Should our information practices change, you will receive a revised copy from us in person or by mail the next time we provide treatment to you.

For more information or to report a problem:

If you believe that your privacy rights have been violated, you can file a complaint in writing with our Privacy Officer in person, or directly with the Secretary of Health and Human Services, Office for Civil Rights, US Department of Health and Human Services, 200 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC. There will be no retaliation against you for filing a complaint.

Erickson Healing Arts

Welcome to our practice! We appreciate being part of your healthcare team!

We want to make everything about your visit as healing and stress-free as possible. To that end, we want to inform you of the office scheduling policy.

Travel in NYC can be challenging. Feel free to arrive a few minutes early to relax, read, even enjoy a cup of tea.

You are welcome to schedule a 15-minute infrared session before or after your appointment. It is best to schedule these in advance, but we will do everything we can to accommodate spur of the moment sessions. These sessions involve lying on a warm infrared massage table in our beautiful Zen-like massage room. Infrared detoxifies, boosts metabolism, relaxes muscles, and profoundly reduces stress. Our patients emerge looking like they have just been on retreat!

We are meticulous about appointment date and times. Once an appointment is made, it is considered confirmed. We do not call to confirm appointments.

When an appointment is scheduled, that time is reserved just for you. We do not overbook our schedule, and strive to see our patients on-time. If we are running a few minutes late, you will be given the full appointment time scheduled.

If you are late for an appointment, you will be given the remaining time available. If you schedule a 30-minute appointment and arrive 10 minutes late, you will have a 20-minute session, and be charged for 30 minutes. Please call us if you will be late. Not only do we appreciate it, but occasionally we are able to juggle the schedule.

Our office has a 24-hour cancellation policy. You may notify us of an appointment cancellation by phone or email, even when the office is closed. We will always phone or email back to confirm we received your cancellation. All appointments missed or cancelled with less than 24-hours notice will be charged the full fee.

Our goal is to make every visit a deeply relaxing, clinically meaningful, and healing experience. Thanks so much for your cooperation and understanding.

Yours in health,

The Erickson Healing Arts Team
