ESTABLISHED over 40 years ago by Drs Ian and Anne Michelson, Michelson's Dental Surgery has built a stellar reputation for delivering top quality dental care to families in Wangaratta and surrounding regional communities.

Now the proud new owner, Dr Wilson Chen still fondly remembers his meeting with Dr Anne Michelson in 2011, when he first set foot in the practice. Having never visited Wangaratta before, Wilson was immediately captured by the beauty of the town and the friendliness of its local residents. It was an easy decision for him to move from Melbourne and begin his career as a dentist right here.

Over the years, Wilson has developed a very loyal patient base in our local communities. He always strives to give 100% to everyone under his care and enjoys building a great rapport with patients of all ages.

Wilson speaks passionately about his vision for the practice.

"At Michelson's Dental Surgery, we want to make it our daily mission to help our patients to receive the best care possible and to invest in dentistry that not only improves their dental health, but also their overall quality and satisfaction in life."

Professionally, Wilson takes a keen interest in the field of orthodontics and cosmetic dentistry. Since graduating from dental school at the University of Melbourne, he has completed many additional accredited dental training courses including Progressive Orthodontics Seminars and ClearCorrect Invisible Braces.

Wilson believes that in order to provide his patients with the best possible care, he needs to be constantly learning and up-skilling himself through continuing professional education and studying new techniques and technologies that emerge in the field of dentistry.

Wilson also holds the position of Chairman for the Northeast Dental Group of the Victorian Dental Association since 2015. He is closely involved in organising meetings and educational seminars for his fellow dental professionals in the region, and actively campaigns for better oral and dental health awareness in the local community.

Leading a group of dedicated dentists (including his fiancée Dr Valerie Cheong), and a team of friendly support staff, Wilson hopes to reach and deliver exceptional dental services to even more members of the community, while at the same time, maintaining Michelson's Dental Surgery's core practice values of integrity, clinical excellence and great patient care.
