Saliva Cells contain Estrogen and Progesterone

Our goal is to accurately test your hormone levels throughout the month giving us information we can use to:

- * Determine a precise ovulation date.
- * Evaluate Estrogen and Progesterone output for the entire cycle.
- * Correct for any imbalances.

Uniquely You

Ovulation will occur between day 12 and 16. Progesterone rises after ovulation to thicken the uterine wall for healthy implantation of the fertilized egg.

Progesterone the second half of the cycle matures the next egg set to be released during ovulation.

If progesterone drops the second half of the cycle the egg will not be mature - viable for fertilization.

Everyone is uniquely different. Hormone testing is just one test we use with pregnancy issues. The whole body is evaluated to ensure nothing is missed.
