Re Deaths From Medical Errors Have Researchers Alarmed - Forbes Magazine

The global chiropractic community share a reality take on 'health' care.

For example, in his book Bad Medicine John Archer collated statistics from medicine's own literature. He makes a comparison – with the Australian road toll which in 2017 was 1,241 road deaths in a year. 'It seems that each year physician-induced injury and death contributes to an epidemic of death and injury that makes Australia's road toll pale into insignificance.' He guesstimated that these figures would be approximately 50,000 (deaths) and 750,000 (injuries) in Australia on an annual basis. Legislators ignore that!

18 years ago my State association made a submission to the State Minister for Health exposing an epidemic level of deaths arising from medical treatment as distinct from the patient's disorder. Legislators ignore that!

You may ask: "How can Australia's government Report Cause of Death miss this epidemic of harm?"

The World Health Organisation's guidelines for completing death certificates apparently permits other than the iatrogenic cause of a death to be substituted for the iatrogenic cause of death. Substitution conceals both the iatrogenic epidemics of individual countries and collectively the global iatrogenic pandemic.

Inconceivably, Australia's media, politicians and those who govern health care knowingly fail in their duty to forewarn potential victims of the iatrogenic epidemic. A first duty of government is the protection of its citizens.

Politicians share a duty of care to know about iatrogenesis being a/or the leading cause of death. Fatally flawed death certificates are used to create the government Report "Cause of Death" accordingly it fails to report Australia's true annual iatrogenic death toll. Our media is mute about this matter.

The Australian Broadcasting Cooperation, ABC, makes the claim of being trustworthy. My federal MP has taken the ABC to task over this failing and has informed both Consumer Affairs and his Minister for that portfolio.

Human pathology text books and courses reflect the false data on cause of death. My federal MP informed the Council of Chiropractic Education in Australasia CCEA of this false information and awaits a response about the CCEA requiring truthful pathology courses.

Replies to letters to the federal Minister for Health are reminiscent of Nelson putting his glass to his blind eye and seeing nothing.

In 2004 researches, including 2 Ph.Ds. 2 MDs and 1 MD ND, claimed to have searched all available medical data about iatrogenesis.<sup>[i]</sup> These researches guesstimated the US iatrogenic death toll as being 783,936 pa. They concluded that; "It is now evident that the American medical system is the leading cause of death and injury in the US."

Since then US media has remained silent about America's true total iatrogenic death toll.

Hey, every medical practitioner in the USA cannot know what treatments create your country's iatrogenic epidemic. How is that for a scary story?

Who imposes such controls over Forbes magazine that the staff betray their ethical duty?

I look forward to your early reply,
