HARNESSING THE POWER OF POSITIVITY

Like an untended garden, weeds will surely grow in your mind if you neglect to nourish it. Your perception, good or bad, determines your reality. There are always miracles in life, and it is a choice to either see them everywhere, or deny they ever exist. In turbulent times, more than ever, you need to create a positive mental attitude (PMA).

PMA makes you more beautiful and healthier like the water crystals in experiments performed by Dr Masaru Emoto. He set out to see the effect of human consciousness on the molecular makeup of water. Beautiful words created crystals that were dazzling and ordered, and ugly words produced crystals that were mangled and chaotic.

Consider then, the effect of negativity on overall health, bearing in mind the body is largely made up of water - you truly become what you think and believe to be true.

Personal growth through change or transformation can only happen from within. Thus, PMA is a lifestyle that can only be achieved through active practice. Change your emotional and mental outlook, and an efficacious change in physiology and physicality will follow.

I have seen many 'miracles' in people's lives through Chiropractic over the years, and I am always humbled, delighted, and amazed that the power that made the body can heal the body and, in many cases, profoundly.

Your body is a road map of your life; therefore, it follows that physical decline is a product of toxins, traumas, and thoughts which have an accumulative effect over a lifetime. Consequently, transformation towards wellness takes time, effort, and application, and it is always a choice whether you make change or whether you don't.

Your body has the divine ability to heal itself, but you need to have faith that it will. Chiropractic with its inside/out and from above/down philosophy simply works whether you believe in it or not. Your body's inborn wisdom that allows it to heal is SUPERNatural - as Chiropractors, we don't do the healing, the body's innate intelligence does. That is the miracle.

NEW YEAR, NEW... EXERCISE REGIME?

Let's be honest, most people will be more than happy to wave goodbye to 2020. It has, without a doubt, been the toughest year many of today's generations have seen.

As the clock tolls midnight and we ring in the new year, it's the perfect time to look ahead to the future and start to create some more positive habits.

Exercise is one of the most powerful things you can do to create both good physical and mental health. But new years resolutions are notoriously hard to keep. So what can you do to set yourself up for success?

Get Clarity On Your Goals

The first thing you need to do is get some clarity on what it is you are trying to achieve. Do you want to lose weight? Build muscle? Strengthen and tone? Or perhaps increase your flexibility? Each of these fitness goals requires a different strategy if you want to achieve it, so it's essential that you know what you're aiming for before you get started.

Empty The Cupboards

Christmas is a time of indulgence. Before you start your new, healthy exercise regime, it's a good idea to set yourself up to succeed. Empty your cupboards of all the unhealthy, sugary or junky foods that built up over the holidays. If they're there when you're hungry then you're much more likely to cave in and eat them!

Fill Up The Cupboards

Building muscle and feeling full of energy does require fuel, so make sure you restock the cupboards with lots of healthy snacks. Nuts, seeds and nut butters can help give you the calories you need and create that satisfied feeling. Dried fruit can help curb the sugar cravings and give you a quick energy boost before you workout.

Plan Ahead

A good exercise regime might need a little planning. Once you've decided on your goals, think about the types of exercise you'll need to do to get where you want to go.

For flexibility, you might want to consider yoga. For strength, maybe pilates could work for you. For weight loss, think about cardio like running or a HIIT class. And for muscle gain, weight training is your fastest way to success.

Plan what, when and how you will exercise to set yourself up for the best chance of success.

Get Aligned

Whether you're a regular exerciser or someone that's new to the active lifestyle, it's important to ensure that your body is in alignment. Even small problems in your alignment can have a significant impact on your body when you work out. You might find that exercising is uncomfortable, with additional strain placed on your muscles and joints. You could experience pain and you could be putting yourself at risk of injuries too!

THE MIRACLE MORNING

TRANSFORM YOUR LIFE BEFORE 8AM

If there's one thing we've learned from 2020, it's that life will throw things at you that you can't control. So what can you do if you're feeling overwhelmed, fed up and frustrated? How can you create a little stability in your life and develop a positive mindset in the face of all adversity?

Personal development is a lifelong process. There's lots of ways to strengthen and improve your mindset, but a great place to start is your morning routine.

Hal Elrod, author of the best selling book "The Miracle Morning" claims that his simple 6 step morning routine has transformed the lives of hundreds of thousands of people. Giving them more energy, focus and motivation. Ideal if you're looking to boost your mental health and make 2021 a positive and productive year for you.

But what does a miracle morning look like?

1: Silence

Start your day with meditation to calm your mind and reduce stress.

2: Affirmations

Use simple, positive affirmations to change your thinking patterns and create new behaviours.

3: Visualisation

Play your perfect day through in your mind, to prepare yourself for the day and stay focused on your goals.

4: Exercise

Stimulate your mind, get your joints moving and boost your happy hormones with a short exercise routine that gets the blood flowing.

5: Reading

Feed your mind and fast-track your personal development by reading 10 pages of a self-help book each day.

6: Scribing

Journal, write your plans or practice your gratitude to keep your mind focused on the positives and process your emotions from the previous day.

Not a morning person? No problem. Elroy has a solution for that too. He claims that even the sleepest of night owls can train their body and mind to wake up early, feel refreshed and have a more positive and productive day.

So what does your morning routine look like? Is it a carefully planned process designed to help you get the best out of your life? Or a "grab a coffee and hope for the best" approach?

If you want to learn more about how to have a miracle morning then I highly recommend you read the book. It could be the best thing you do this year.

New Year NOODLES

INGREDIENTS

- > 1 lb noodles or linguine pasta
- > 1/2 - 1 1/2 tbsp red pepper flakes (to taste)
- > 2 tbsp olive oil
- > 1/3 - 1/2 cup toasted sesame oil
- > 1 1/2 tsp chilli paste
- > 6 tbsp soy sauce
- > 3 tbsp honey
- > Spring onions, carrots, peanuts, coriander, Sriracha and sesame seeds to garnish

INSTRUCTIONS

Chop the garnishes and set aside until you're ready to serve.

Boil the noodles or pasta, draining before it goes gloopy.

While the noodles are boiling, heat both oils in a large skillet with the red pepper flakes.

Once the oil is hot, strain the pepper flakes, reserving the oil in a bowl.

Add the reserved oil back into the skillet and add the chilli paste.

Whisk in the soy sauce and honey.

Toss the noodles in the skillet with the sauce.

Serve hot, at room temperature or even cold. Top with the garnishes to taste and enjoy!
